Wednesday morning.

To day I have a letter from Jonathan Walker, begging Dear Foster, & announcing his intention to just run into my hands taking into shape the making of a pamphlet account of his Southern adventures. He is to come Saturday, I believe. I shall perhaps, give him a party, consisting of Garrison & T. Parker & such as I can pick up in town of the Faithful.

What will you have next of the Haitian papers? It will save me great trouble to just copy of the Haitian Military Journal, Prefaced by the Statement that I was about to make some Statements about Church & State, & make
